

Communications Team

The Communications Team will also act as the Steering Team until we are able to establish such a team.

They will keep a list of all the gardener's and people on the waiting list. They will also have a list of outside volunteers. They will have the full contact information and the list of skills for the gardeners.

They will meet with the Garden Coordinator to discuss any decisions that needs to be made regarding the other teams as well as problems that might arise in the community garden. They will help with any disagreement that might arise between gardeners.

The Communications Team will be responsible to create documents that are needed for keeping the gardeners informed of the progress of the community garden, like newsletters. As the communications team also holds the responsibility of a Steering Committee, they need to be community minded, and available as well for consultation regarding the documents that we use in the garden like the garden guidelines and registration forms. They will help plan the agendas for our meeting and phone the gardener's that do not have easy access to the Internet or a computer.
